NOTES

From the President

Due to construction at The Elks we can not meet there for our March 2nd meeting; therefore we will once again meet via ZOOM. Please look for an email from Claudis who will be sending out a link to join the meeting.

Daylight Savings Time begins March 13 and Spring a week later, so in short, it's almost corvette weather!

Wishing you well,
Howard

NOTES

From the Editor

Greetings, and welcome to the March, 2022 issue of Corvette Expressions.

I hope everyone is doing well. Just a reminder that if there's something special you would like me to mention in this newsletter such as an important family event, new corvette, etc. please send me the information by the 20th of the month so that I can get it into the next newsletter. Pictures are always welcome!

Due to an upcoming virtual course that I have to take for work on Wednesday evenings, I will not be able to attend the next two club meetings, but I hope to see you all in May.

Corvette Merchandise for Sale

Part: OEM replacement ACDelco manufactured Mobile 1 DEXOS 0W-40 Oil Cap w/ gasket

Part number: GM 12686472 (FC265)

Application: All C7 Wet sump oil system (i.e. all without Z51, Not GRANDSPORT, Not Z06, Not ZR1)

Condition: New, unused, in opened original part bag

Price: $9.00

GM (Service Bulletin No. 18-NA-129, April 2018) states Mobile 1 DEXOS2 SAE 0W-40 can be used for all oil changes of all C7 generation corvettes. Some on Corvette Blogger suggest replacement of the original oil cap with one like this one if you want to ensure servicing technicians use your preferred oil in your car. So there is a different part number for Z06 (FC 264, GM 12680708) for the Dry sump engine equipped models, which I have. I ordered the wrong part originally, and now want to sell the FC265 oil cap.

For more information, check out this article on the Corvette Blogger forum:

"Here are the Official Part Numbers for the Mobile 1 0W-40 Oil Caps"

Thanks, Doug Alpaugh (slohan51@verizon.net)

The next Corvette Express meeting will be held via ZOOM on Wednesday, March 2. Claudis W. will be sending all members a link for the meeting via email. The meeting will begin at 8:00pm.
